VISHWA PATEL

As a multi-disciplinary designer, I work with a medium, uniquely personal and universally significant - food. Through my foundation in Spatial Design, I perceive spaces as blank canvases that enables individuals to express themselves, establish connections, and evoke emotions. I am on a journey into the world of Food Design with the intention of crafting experiences that employ food and gastronomy as vehicles for effective communication. I aim to create diverse experiences that bring us together and help build a more sustainable world. My diverse portfolio of working alongside nutritionists, researchers, filmmakers, artists, restaurateurs and chefs is a mark of my versatility, creativity and the vision to forge a unique connection between food and people.
